A GREAT RECRUITING IDEA

"Bring a friend," says Mannie Lowery, owner, Lowery Distributing Co., Inc., 4743 W. Kinzie, who generously donated 1,000 tickets for the Alcorn-Grambling football game to the Midwest District.

In order to receive a ticket for the game (held September 17), each Scout had to recruit a new boy. Both boys were then given free tickets.

Mr. Lowery, Midwest District Chairman, distributed the tickets so that more young boys could attend the game which is sponsored by the Chicago Urban League. The District discovered that the tickets, used in a "bring a buddy" plan, were a great recruiting idea.

Pictured is Scout Executive Joseph R. Klein looking on as Mr. Lowery presents tickets to Cub Scout LeeMonn Showers, Pack 4721 and Boy Scout DeeMent Showers, Troop 1721.

SPEAK UP AND BE HEARD

Scouts and Explorers are invited to speak up and be heard (and win awards) during the 1971 Operation Patrick Henry program October 30 and November 6.

Operation Patrick Henry affords the boys a chance to gain valuable public speaking experience and be coached by members of Toastmasters International.

At the first session each participant gives a three to six minute speech on Scouting or the subject of his choice. The speech is evaluated by the group (5-8 boys per group) and coach. During the next week the boys revise their speeches and give them again at the second session. Speeches are then graded, top boys are selected and awards presented.

Winners receive trophies and wall certificates. Participants receive pocket and wall certificates.

The registration fee is 50 cents per boy and any registered Scout or Explorer is eligible.

Registration forms and money is due by October 20. Forms have been mailed to all unit leaders and should be returned to the Public Relations Service, Chicago Area Council, B.S.A., 300 West Adams Street, Chicago, Illinois 60606.

FALL ROUNDUP STRESSES

INDIVIDUAL DISTRICT NEEDS

Recruiting activities aimed at the district and community needs are being used to generate interest in Scouting throughout the Chicago Area Council during the Fall Roundup.

Creative events are being planned and executed in many areas in efforts to draw new boys into Scouting. Some examples are:

* Northeast Area has organized a Jamboree for a weekend in October. It will feature camping, Scout skills and patrol competition. Boys will have the opportunity to work for advancement as well as awards. Parents are invited and Scouts are encouraged to bring non-Scout friends. Attendance is estimated at 1200-1500.

* Trailblazer District is planning a Halloween party, and Arrowhead a carnival.

* Indian Boundary has set the weekend of October 22-24 for its Tri-Camporee. For Cub Scouts there is a "Wild West Daze," for Boy Scouts a "Chicagoland Jamboree" and for Explorers an "Explorer Olympics." Boys are invited to bring their friends to see what Scouting is all about.

* Northwest Area held Steak Fries in all districts in August to kick off the Roundup. The Area is also staging monthly Call-o-Rees to every unit leader.

In addition to these specific examples are school surveys, rallies, School Nights for Scouting and unit open houses that are important means of recruitment.

Scouts and Scouters are urged to pitch in to make Fall Roundup a success for their community and "Help the Odds."

JAMBOREE JOURNAL

Thirty-six Scouts and two leaders from the Chicago Area Council returned home August 20 tired but nonetheless enriched by their international exchange experiences at the World Jamboree in Japan.

These boys, along with approximately 20,000 others from 132 countries, joined together in Jamboree activities, discussed life in their own countries, and made new friends around the world.

"Just after meeting the other Scouts, we felt we had known them a long time," commented Philip "Chauncy" Niziol, Troop 494, Stockyard District, who was a member of the Chicago contingent.

"One of the games we played was called the wide game," he explained. "Everyone wore a letter and we had to search the Jamboree camps to find other Scouts with the letters to spell out 'For Understanding.' It was a fun way to meet the Scouts from other countries."

Typhoon Olive, which swept along the west coast of Japan on August 5, temporarily drove the Scouts to seek shelter in temples, private homes, universities and other available housing.

"Our group was taken by bus to a Japanese Army base for 24 hours then went back to set up camp again," Chauncy said. "The headquarters tent had been blown down and there was mud all over. Our Japanese hosts even tore down their gateway decorations to make walking boards."

"The next day we all washed our clothes," he said. "It was very colorful with everything hanging out!"

Chauncy noted that the closing ceremony of the Jamboree was a spectacular event featuring fireworks, a dragon dance by the Scouts from China and a ballet-opera by the boys from Germany.

Many other highlights of the trip came with the eight-day tour of Japan that followed the Jamboree.

"I met Japan's most famous samurai warrior, viewed the great Buddha, went to the Olympic Youth Center in Tokyo where the athletes stayed during the 1964 Olympics and even got to see a Japanese television station," Chauncy said.

"We had a great time," he added. "It was an experience none of us will ever forget."
